

Still Reflecting The Son

Labor Day weekend has come and gone. It's supposed to be a time to honor the working class. Actually, I had never really stopped to think about what the holiday was about until recently. That's a shame. In all probabilities, I'm not the only one who has never asked what it is all about. It's a day off from work, that's all we really cared about. However when you really think about it, the world could not make it without the working class of people. So, thank you everyone for your labor.

On August 3rd the Reflectsons were once again at Midway Church of God for their annual peanut boil. We are so grateful to be part of this special tradition each year. This is like coming home and the people are always so kind and gracious there.

The next day was again like going home. Bible Deliverance Church had Homecoming. The Reflectsons have been at every one except two since the church was established. Many family members and friends were on hand to worship and celebrate. This is the church that Dale's Dad started many years ago. Tommy, Dale's brother, is now the pastor and doing a great job. Trinity Baptist Church in Valdosta, Georgia was their destination on August 17th. A wonderful time was had by all as the Lord ministered. It was good to see so many friends and hopefully we made a few new ones.

The Reflectsons had the honor of being at the Florida Gospel Music Association (FGMA) Convention over Labor Day weekend. It was a time of refreshing while receiving the preached word and the Word in song.

Randy and Mary Perry sure were missed. Due to the hurricane and not knowing for sure what path it would take, it was decided that it would be best if they did not make the trip. God even had His hand in this because Randy became very ill and was near his doctors where he could get the help he needed.

The Convention is a time where those in the same type of ministry can meet together and encourage one another, pray for one, see those they haven't seen since last Convention, and have some good fellowship.

While audiences of all ages relate well to their performance and enjoy a balance of music, ministry, vocal harmonies, testimonies and humor, the group's motive for all activity is ministry. In an auditorium or a church, an audience who attends a Reflectsons performance is sure to receive a presentation that makes for a good a Christian experience.

Keep Reflecting the Son!

Song Of The Month

Little Bit of Heaven is the pick for Song of the Month. This pick was made by Dale Thigpen. "Because when we sing for and fellowship with God's people at various churches, there always seems to be the presence of the Lord. I believe the presence of the Lord is what Heaven's all about any way."

Rick Radford holding the bus watchdog, Lexie.

Did You Know?

Did you know that the Reflectsons started out with Dale and his two sons, Dale, Jr. and Glen. Dale, Jr. was 15 years old and Glen was nine years old. They still talk about learning to sing harmony, how their dad made them sing one line of a song until they got it right before he would let them sing the next line, no matter how long it took. Glen also started learning to play the piano about the same time.

God has blessed the Reflectsons tremendously. Bless His Holy Name!
